MESSAGE

I am happy to learn that the Indian Institute of Metals, Delhi Chapter, is organising the 12th edition of the Minerals, Metals, Metallurgy and Materials (MMMM) Exhibition and Expo and International Technical Conference on 'Minerals and Metals Sector – Growth Prospects in the new Business Environment' in New Delhi on August 29-31, 2018.

Over the years, the minerals and metals sector has been a driving force propelling the growth of the Indian economy, with the sector currently contributing to around 4.5 per cent of the nation's GDP. This is expected to go up in the years ahead in view of the National Steel Policy target of 300 million tonnes per annum by 2030.

MMMM 2018 will provide representatives of the minerals and metals industry with a platform to showcase and deliberate on the emerging global trends and technological advancements in the domain of minerals and metals. It will also provide leading global technology and equipment suppliers to the minerals and metals industry to highlight and present to the industry their state-of-the-art product and service offerings.

I am sure MMMM 2018 will provide the impetus for industry leaders to deliberate on emerging technologies and futuristic trends that will pave the path for speedy growth and advancement of the minerals and metals sector in India.

I wish MMMM 2018 all success.
